

Why would you're agency even bother to think about changing this?
Leave it as it is, I am so happy not being interrupted by these unsolicited calls and now you want to allow them once more.

Doesn't you're agency have better things to do with it's time?

It is my choice whom I want to call my house and I choose not to have these solicitors be among them, so why don't you listen to the wishes of the average citizen and stop being influenced by "Big Business" and it's "big money".

How about listening to the "little guy" for a change???
